WEATHER KEY POINTS

12/09/19 - 12/15/19

Monday

- Dry conditions are expected across the state. Other than dense fog in some locations, no significant weather or water impacts are expected

Tuesday-Wednesday

- A weak storm will move into portions of Coastal Region on Tuesday, then through northern portions of Inland Region late Tuesday into Wednesday
 - This storm will generally bring light valley rain and mountain snow, but no significant impacts are currently expected

Thursday-Sunday

- A series of storm systems will continue to move across the northern half of the state through the end of the week
 - Potential impacts include the threat of moderate to heavy rainfall in the valleys and possible travel impacts across the Sierra
- Damaging surf and coastal flooding are possible during high tide across Southern Region due to large, long-period swell late in the week
